

Aug. 27, 2015

Program for Aug. 20

Bob Stark was our speaker today. He has been studying Ben Franklin for many years and has written a book and lectured about the great innovator. Bob listed topics and "innovations" of Ben's from psychology of ants, to armonica, and the Franklin stove. Ben was quite a networker, too, and started a junto (a modern day JayCeess!) from which he developed the first U.S. library, a volunteer fire company, and a fire insurance company. Bob's friend Phyllis Franklin is a direct descendant of Ben Franklin's brother and has a profile very similar to Ben's!

Thought for the Week:

*Not taught in any Science class: Law of Close Encounters:
The probability of meeting someone you know INCREASES dramatically when you are with someone you don't want to be seen with.*

30-minute makeup

If you missed a meeting, try going online at www.rotaryclubone.org. At the Rotary e-club, click on "makeups" at top, then select the topic you want to learn about. You must stay on the site for 30 minutes before submitting your info in order for it to count as an official makeup. Enter your info and our secretary will automatically be notified. Try doing it while at lunch, this evening, or whenever you have a chance.

Or here's another suggestion

If you want to physically visit another club in our district, try Kennett Square Rotary on Tuesdays at 11:30 a.m. They meet at LaVerna Restaurant, 114 E. State Street, Kennett Square, PA 19348

Learn more about Rotary

Rotary Leadership Institute will be held at Cecil College in North East, Md. October 17. If you want to attend parts I, II, or III, register at www.rlinews.blogspot.com. Pay online, then give your receipt to Shawn for reimbursement. The program is an all-day session, with lunch included. So it's basically FREE!!! This is a chance to learn more about different aspects of Rotary and The Foundation. Our club has made this a priority for members, so take advantage of the opportunity.

New Members applying

We seem to have several membership applications in the pipeline. If you have someone in mind, get their name to Polly Sierer for a formal invitation to join us for a meeting.
